

Congressional Reception Tonight

Congress Members
Guests Tonight at State Reception

The third and largest state affair of the season will be the Congressional reception at the White House this evening. A large number of invitations were issued and the requests became so numerous that the list was closed a week ago.

The carriages will approach from the north to the east entrance of the White House, opposite the Treasury. Pedestrians will follow the same route. After discharging passengers carriages will be parked around the Ellipse in the White Lot.

The gates will not be open until 9 o'clock. Two carriages will drive under the porte-cochere at the same time. Coachmen will be provided with numbered tickets, which must be preserved by them in order to regain admittance to the grounds. Guests will also be provided with tickets of the same number as their carriages. These they should carefully preserve, in order to call their carriages, which will depart from the same entrance. It is rumored that the line of carriages be not delayed by paying for the carriage service at the entrance. Carriages will be called by electric signal.

After leaving clocks in the cloakroom, guests are requested to fall in line in the colonnade and pass up the main staircase.

The southwest gate will be opened at 8:30 p. m. Guests holding special carriage cards will enter the grounds by that gate, and the house by the door under the south portico. Carriages will approach this entrance by Seventeenth street.

Response to the appeals recently published by the Joint Finance Committee in behalf of the Associated Cities, the Citizens' Relief Association, and the Committee on Prevention of Consumption has been encouraging, but by no means sufficient. There is still needed for the three charities something more than $17,000.

Distress is unusually severe among the poor. Need for help is urgent.

Small subscriptions are welcome, as well as larger gifts. Will you send a contribution to

No apprehension is felt for the recovery of little Elizabeth Archer, who was yesterday severely burned while playing with matches at her home in Brookland. Dr. Frischkorn, who dressed the child's injuries, stated today that, although the burns are painful, the girl is in no danger.

Cooling lotions have been applied to the hurts since the child miraculously escaped cremation. All danger of sulphur poisoning has been removed, according to the physician.
